

Nina Czegledy

Nina Czegledy, media artist, curator and writer, works internationally on collaborative art and science/technology and educational, projects. Her lectures have resulted in numerous publications. Her practice crosses visual and media arts and focuses on the changing perception of the environment and the human body. Her works have been exhibited widely and she is well known internationally as a curator and key contributor to workshops, forums and festivals. Senior Fellow at KMDI, University of Toronto, Adjunct Professor Concordia University, Montreal, Honorary Fellow, Moholy Nagy University Budapest, Research Fellow, Intercreate org. New Zealand. Czegledy is a member of the Leonardo Governing Board, contributing editor of the Leonardo Electronic Almanac and member of the Observatoire Leonardo des Arts et des Techno-Sciences scientific committee.