

Promoting Education Exchange on Partnership

中国教育国际交流协会

China Education Association for International Exchange
(CEAIE)

- China's nationwide non-governmental organization conducting international education exchange
- In 1981, founded with the approval of the State Council of the People's Republic of China
- In 1991, registered at the Ministry of Civil Affairs, the People's Republic of China

Mission Statement

- Initiate and develop exchanges and cooperation between the Chinese educational community and educational institutions in other parts of the world
- Promote the advancement of education, culture, science and technology
- Strengthen understanding and friendship among peoples of all countries and regions

Statistics from Ministry of Education

- China started to send students and scholars abroad in 1978
- From 1978 to 2004:
 - 815,000 Chinese students went overseas
 - 198,000 returned
 - 617,000 remain overseas, including 427,000 current researchers, scholars and students

Market Change

- Targeting countries 109, with favorable policies and semi-tailored program course
- Quality of Chinese youngsters: wider disciplines for variety of job opportunities, foreign language proficiency , self confidence
- Parents become more brand name conscious

Domestic Education Reform

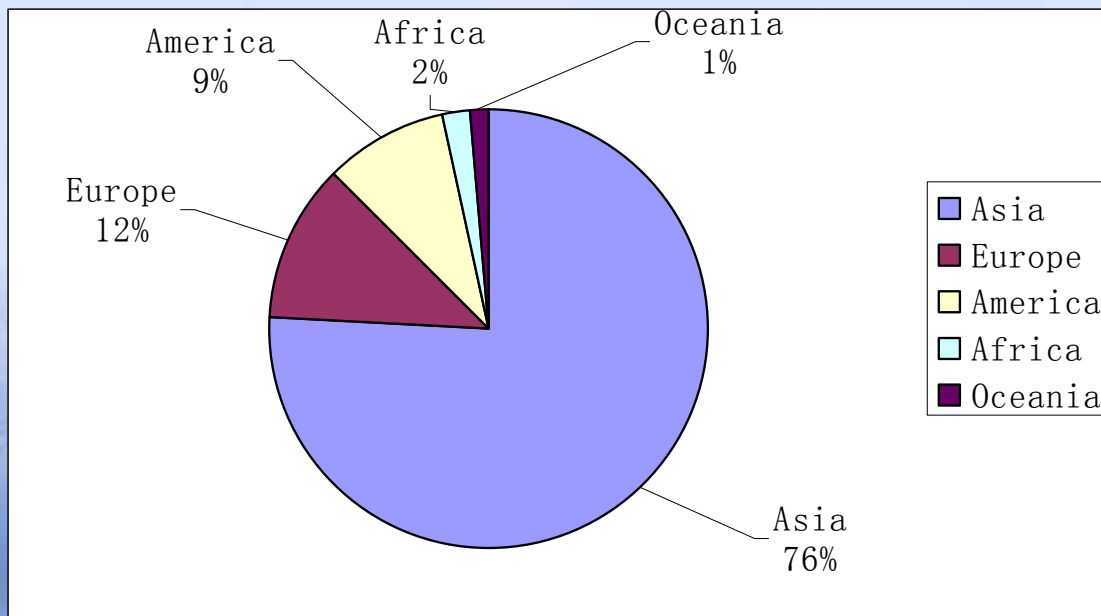

- On line course are channeled from prestigious universities
- Establishing more overseas campus
- Professional training by corporations and transnational companies
- Joint degree training programs
- Academic degree recognition with other countries

International Students in China

- 2005, China Scholarship Council:
- 141,087 students from 179 countries in 464 Chinese institutions in 31 provinces (Beijing, Shanghai and Tianjin)
- 75.73% from Asia
- 11.67% from Europe
- 9.37% from America
- 1.95% from Africa
- 1.28% from Oceania

International Students in China

- 141,087 students from 179 countries in 464 Chinese institutions in 31 provinces (Beijing, Shanghai and Tianjin)

(2005, China Scholarship Council)

Ranking

- Among 179 countries
- Top 5 : South Korea, Japan,
USA, Vietnam, Indonesia
- No 7 Russia, No 8 India, No 9 France,
No 10 Germany , No 17 Canada

International Students in China

- 94.88% self financed students
- 5.12% on the Chinese Government Scholarship

- 70.75% major in social sciences
- 12.78% medical science
- Economics, engineering, management, law

■ Leadership Training and Development Programs

- Aim: to contribute to the development of higher education in China and other countries by forming working partnerships between higher education leaders (and potential leaders). These partnerships should contribute to the development and dissemination of good practice in higher education management and leadership in Chinese and other countries' institutions.

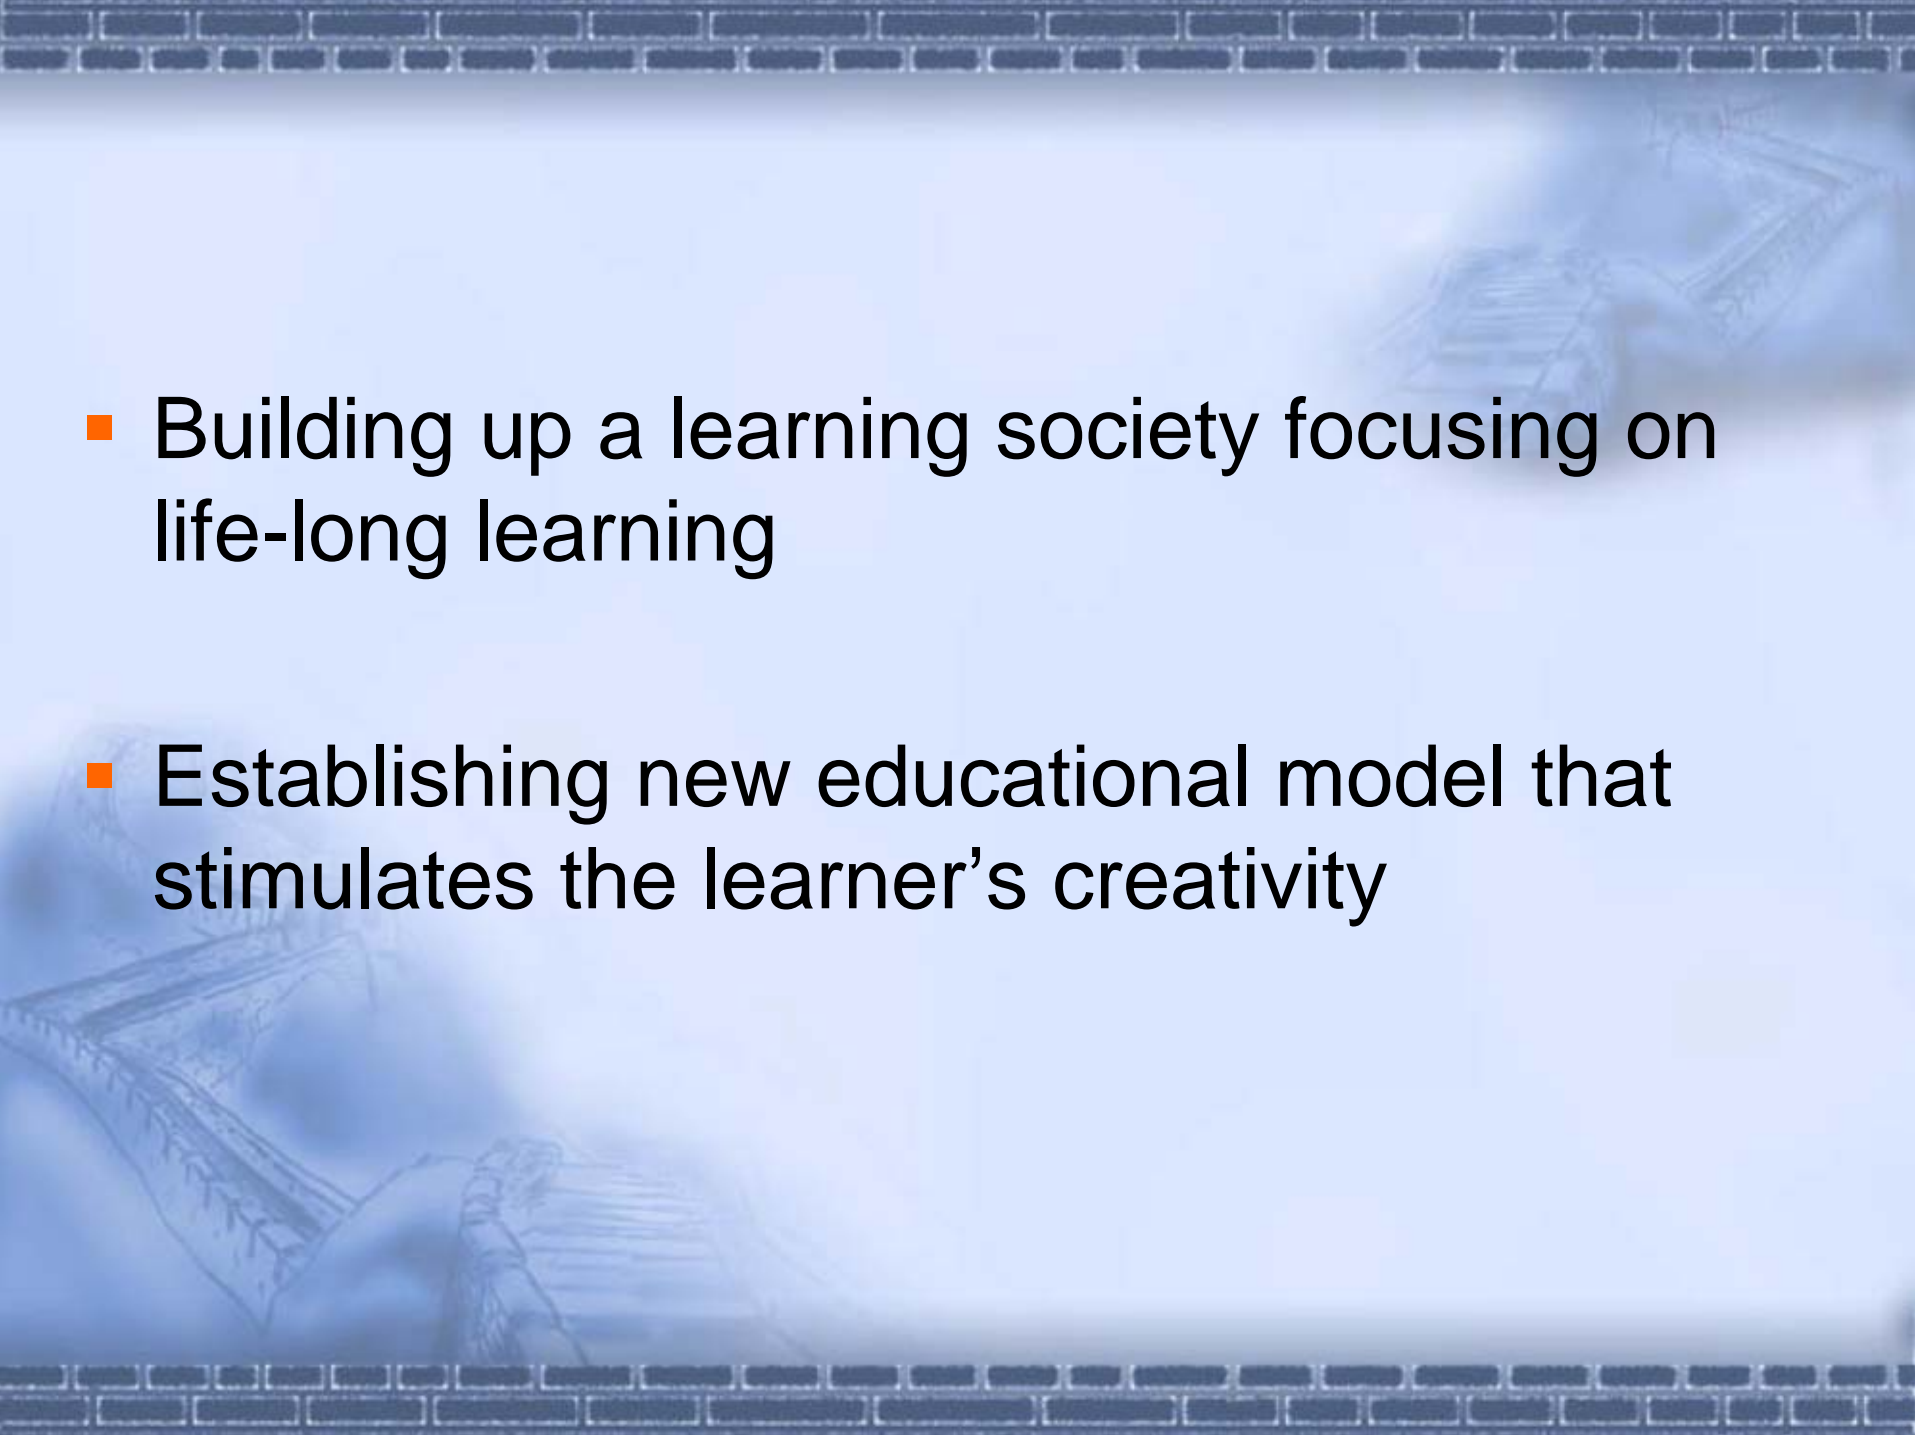

-
- Vocational and Technical Education
 - Teacher training
 - Teaching abroad

-
- Recognition of academic credentials and degrees
 - The Chinese Government has already signed mutual recognition of academic credentials and degrees with 28 countries

Issues facing China's education

- Updating the notions for education:
- What is the new notion? The multiplication of knowledge, the evolution of professions and the emergence of new jobs
- The institutional barriers that bottle-neck the development of education

-
- To streamline the role of the Government in its administration of education and the mode of the Government at all levels in education management
 - To strengthen the law that governs the university autonomy

-
- Building up a learning society focusing on life-long learning
 - Establishing new educational model that stimulates the learner's creativity

Promoting International Exchanges on Partnership

- China Education Association for International Exchange (CEAIE) will promote and develop educational exchanges by forming partnership with organizations and institutions from different countries and regions.

- Yang Meng
- Deputy Secretary General
- China Education Association for International Exchange (CEAIE)
- 37 Damucang Hutong, Beijing, China 100816
- yangmeng@ceaie.edu.cn
- Fax: 86-10-66416156