

UNESCO Series on Internet Freedom

For five years, UNESCO has been publishing a flagship series on Internet Freedom. The studies aim to capture the complex dynamic of global Internet governance on issues relevant to the mandate of UNESCO. The research provides UNESCO Member States and other stakeholders with policy advice that can help to foster a conducive environment for freedom of expression online.

Freedom of connection, freedom of expression: the changing legal and regulatory ecology shaping the Internet

Global survey on internet privacy and freedom of expression

Fostering freedom online: the role of Internet intermediaries

Building digital safety for journalism: a survey of selected issues

Countering online hate speech

Principles for governing the Internet: a comparative analysis

United Nations
Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization

UNESCO works to build peace and sustainable development in the world through education, the sciences, culture, and communication and information.

UNESCO is the specialized agency within the United Nations that promotes freedom of expression and associated rights.

Keystones to foster inclusive Knowledge Societies

World Trends in Freedom of Expression and Media Development: Special Digital Focus 2015
