Of the 650 million primary school age children in the world, 250 million are not learning the basics. Among these, 400 million in primary school and learned the basics, 130 million in primary school but did not learn the basics, and 120 million have not even completed 4 years of school.

Infographic for the EFA Global Monitoring Report 2013/4 - Teaching and learning: Achieving quality for all.