Of the 650 million primary school age children in the world, 120 million have not even completed 4 years of school. 130 million are in primary school but have not learned the basics. 38% of children are not learning the basics. 120 million have not even completed 4 years of school.