Report Camp Sanguine

Organized by The Ambassadors of Cayon High, St. Kitts

Overview

The Ambassadors of Cayon High (past students) aptly guided by the motto ‘With us a new chapter begins’ is proud to report on a camp that met all expectations and captured all aims and objectives.

As an organization we sought to implement a camp of this nature geared toward providing varied opportunities for students of the Cayon High School of a lower socio-economic status to discover their true being and self-worth.

The camp commenced on June 2nd and ended on June 5th 2006 and focused on one (1) main area namely Decision Making (Choices) under the sub-theme “Don’t follow the tide, U decide” and catered for some (50) fifty students.

We solicited the support of the following as our partners Ministry of Community and Social development through the Community Officer Mr. Terry Morris and will also be collaborating with the Health Promotion Unit and the Department of Youth.

The aims and objectives of the camp are;

- To provide an opportunity for participants to experience Camp Life
- To share and gain knowledge with their peers on current issues that directly affect their way of life.
- To be Ambassadors for their class and school in general
- To have fun in a learning environment
- To teach youth the importance of a quality education, community building and the value of volunteering
- To know that life is made up of choices and they must make the best choices possible

Participants’ selection criteria

Participants were selected by the Guidance Counseling Department of the school. Two (2) students from each class from 1st through 4th form were selected based on thorough evaluation of their behavior patterns as well as social standings in society, which gave a total of (50) fifty participants. The fifth formers could not participate as they were preparing for their CXC (School Leaving) exams.

Venue

The venue of the Camp was the Violet Petty Primary School, Lodge Village, St. Kitts, which was one of the most recently constructed schools and had adequate space for the hosting of the event. The venue was also the focus of our community project where we painted the entire exterior of the school.

During the postmortem the management committee after reviewing the evaluation forms decided to make the venue the home of Camp Sanguine for the next (2) two years with the permission of the principal and staff of the school. They have expressed much satisfaction and pleasure with the usage and the effort of improvement.

The camp was guided and coordinated by the following time plan, which enabled us to monitor the overall progress of the camp.

Programme Overview

Registration

This was done upon arrival by the management team at an official registration desk. Campers were welcomed, given orientation packages that included the rules, schedule, management, meal plan, leaders, information on the camp and the group and a flyer of the sponsor (UNESCO) placed in work groups as well as dorms. The campers were directed to their rooms after completing the process to settle in.

Official Opening

The ceremony was brief as we were pressed for time and had a lot to cover over the short weekend. The president addressed the gathering ensuring the rules were clearly understood and that the time of scheduled activities were respected. The camp theme was introduced and the campers' tag line (CHOICES-Don't follow the tide you decide) was rehearsed. The Management team, leaders, Security and kitchen staff were all introduced officially.

Orientation

Campers introduced themselves to each other as well the general camp in a creative way. This session was facilitated by one of the leaders.

Morning Exercise

We encouraged the campers to stay fit by ensuring that they exercised daily at mornings.

Topics Facilitated

Choices (Don't follow the tide, u decide), Personal Development (Male & Female Sessions), Attitude Determines Altitude, Education related to Career Choices were that topics presented to the campers who were placed in groups accordingly. Facilitators were also past students who were role models to the participants. All topics were executed and generated much discussion.

Facilitators included; Dr. Vance Gilbert, Nahima Hazel, Davima Broadbelt, Verna Morris, Sharilyn Crowford, Officer Leroy James, Verna Morris, Kevin Morton, Claricia Langley & Officers from the Health Promotion Unit. Most of the facilitators are past students of Cayon High and were happy to contribute to the camps overall success.

Talent Explosion

The campers, leaders and management were given the opportunity to display their talent in a competitive environment representing their dorms for prizes and tokens. Talent such as dance, drama, musical, poetry, comedy and storytelling were all a part of the evening programme.

Church Service

The entire camp worshiped at the Covenant Outreach Ministry in Lodge Village officiated by Pastor Renville Thomas. The service was upbeat and acknowledged the attendance of the entire camp.

Community Project

We painted the entire exterior of the host school. All campers, leaders, teachers and community members participated and we were able to complete the project in two days.

Session on HIV/AIDS Awareness

This session was facilitated by The Health Promotion Unit (HIV- AIDS Secretariat) and focused on the ABC's; Abstinence, Be Faithful & Condom Use. The campers were quiet interactive and asked many questions as the topic was of particular interest. Role plays were done by the participants.

Gift Giving (Visit to the Children's Home)

Campers and leaders were transported to the Children's Home, Basseterre, St. Kitts where they toured, socialized, played games, read books and shared gifts with the residence. They felt right at home and had a wonderful time.

Sanguine Social Evening (Lodge Great House)

At this event held in a botanical garden the campers were dressed formally and received a tasty buffet dinner. Partners were invited to share in the evening to conclude the weekend activities. A brief awards ceremony was held and had speeches from the Principal, Director of Youth, Leaders, Facilitators, Ambassadors, Teachers and Campers.

The male and female campers of the year were awarded and gift packages were given to campers and all attendees for their contribution to the successful hosting of the camp. A house DJ provided music for entertainment.

Camp Evaluation

The camp was evaluated and was said to be an experience to be treasured. Campers have already made plans to attend next year's camp.

They left the camp with a better knowledge of most things as it relates to the group and their school but particularly about the importance of their choices in life and the consequences. It is our hope that they will make informed choices as they grow.

Press Article

This Article was done by the St. Kitts and Nevis Information Service infocom@sisterisles.kn at the end of the camp and was published in the press and was a news item in media houses.

The campers as well as organizers were quite proud that the parents were able to hear and witness the success of the camp.

Cayon High School Students Learn Value of Giving and Other Best Practices

Basseterre, St. Kitts (June 09 2006): Students from the Cayon High School learnt best practices such as the importance of making good choices and the value of giving, during a recent three-day camp at the Violet Petty Primary School.

“Camp Sanguine” (which means hopeful) was organized by the Ambassadors of Cayon High whose members are past students of the school. President of the organization Claricia Langley told SKNIS that campers were drawn from families with low economic and social backgrounds. Two participants from each class were identified by the school’s Guidance Counseling Department to take part.

“The camp was organized to allow the students a chance to experience residential camp life,” she said. “We targeted their mental development by conducting sessions on the importance of getting a quality education, the value of gift giving and volunteerism as well as the need to make positive choices in life.”

Decision making was the primary focus of the event which ran from June 2nd to 5th . It observed the theme “Don’t follow the tide, U decide.” “The camp went really well. It was a complete success,” President Langley stressed.

Langley expressed appreciation to UNESCO for sponsoring the event and commended the faculty of Cayon High as well as the Ministry of Education, Youth, Social and Community Development and Gender Affairs and the St. Kitts Tourism Authority for their contribution. Credit was also given to the Naismith International Basketball Foundation, the Lodge Great House, Nagico Insurance, Quinz Incorporated and all Group leaders, Ambassadors and Volunteers.

Based on positive results, the Ambassadors of Cayon High indicated that they will host the camp on an annual basis.

Campers Volunteer Projects

All campers participated in two of the following projects giving their time energy and effort to ensure the successful completion of the project;

- International Beach Clean up Campaign on the 22nd September 2006 at South Friars Bay
(Campers cleaned the beach and learned the significance of its contribution to our Tourism Product.)
- Campers Follow-up meeting and re-evaluation of camp 30th November 2006 at Cayon High School
(Campers participated in a meeting organized by the ambassadors and the Guidance Counseling Department where we exchanged ideas for self-improvement while at the same time made suggestions to improve the hosting of next year's camp)
- National Youth Symposium organized by the Youth Department on the 29th November at Eastern Caribbean Central Bank, Bird Rock.
(Campers were invited to share ideas on the way forward for our Nations youth at a one-day symposium)
- Hospitality Training by the Tourism Authority (Ready to welcome the World) during Tourism Week 12th October 2006
(Some campers visited identified hotels in St. Kitts to learn its daily operations and participated in mock job exercises for the hands on experience so as to better promote the business to local, visitor and visiting nationals)
- Children's Carnival Costume preparations at Mass Camp from October – December 2006
(Campers assisted the mass builders with creating the costumes to be worn by primary school children during our National Carnival Children's' Day Celebrations on the 30th December 2006)

All projects were meaningful and campers were eager to participate. There was one project that was not completed due to the heavy rainfall that we experienced in the latter part of October, which would have been a community clean-up.

Future Plans to include Campers

Ambassadors Week of Activities

The Ambassadors each celebrate a week of activities; in 2007 this will be celebrated on the 18th - 22nd February, 2007. We have to have it earlier in the year as in March we will host the Cricket World Cup in St. Kitts 2007.

All campers from Camp Sanguine will participate in the activities such as:

- Church Service
- T-shirt Day/Mentorship Programme
- Group meeting with Staff of School
- Peace and Unity Concert
- Take – way – dinner (Fund Raiser)
- Family Picnic
- Charity walk in honor of a deceased class mate (Delia Gilbert- 14years)
- Ambassadorial Fete
- Beach Nic'

These activities are geared towards fundraising, as it is our intention to contribute a piece of equipment to the school annually.

Camp Sanguine 2007

The camp is being organized from 1st – 4th June 2007 and will continue to adopt the theme Decision Making (Choices) under a new sub-theme “To be or not to be” and will cater for some (60) sixty students as the last camp was a tremendous success and has raised the interest of other students.

The Registration process will be different as some interested students were limited to participate as they were not able to register, while registered students felt obligated to participate because their teacher told them to.

The organization has decided after consulting with our partners and participants and conducting a post mortem amongst the Ambassadors and camp management as well as communicating with the principal it was decided that the Violet Petty Primary School will be the home of Camp Sanguine for 2007 and beyond. The venue is appropriate as it is equipped with the adequate rooming, kitchen, bathrooms, ground space and is located in a village that is quite supportive and caters to the needs of the camp.

Concerns & Recommendations

- Sponsorship funds needs to be accessible as early as possible as other partners expect payments full or half before the goods and services can be issued.
- Sponsorship needs to be increased as the camp size will increase as well
- Registration process should be done earlier and be monitored closely
- Registration should be open to at least 5-10 persons from the host school
- More time should be allocated for the community project based on it nature
- Campers must visit a different church annually
- Community project for the next camp should include adopting a space for beautification
- Skill training is necessary for the campers, suggestions such as Art & Craft, Cake Baking and Drumming should be included in the programme of activities.
- A picnic and fun day should be held at the end of the camp including fun and games
- Contributors to the camp should present a banner to be mounted through-out the entire camp
- Advance training for Group leaders and management team as to how they address the issues of campers, parents, facilitators and any other person that would contribute to the overall success of the camp
- Parent should be given an official invitation to attend at least of the camps activities so they can be apart of their children's experience of the camp

Conclusion

Camp Sanguine is a necessity to the students of Cayon High as this is the only camp of this nature in their school system and the only camp that caters to families of students of a lower socio-economic status.

As ambassadors we wanted to give back to the educational institute that gave us the foundation to start life in the direction pleasing to us and our society, quality education was offered and so we intend to provide quality interactive programmes and sessions to capture the interest of fellow youth in a positive way.

We appreciate the partnership to further develop our nation's youth, molding them to become the best at what they do in life.

We are prepared to start a new chapter in life and would enjoy doing so by creating a fun learning environment to the present students of Cayon High.
