  o Complete COVID vaccination with a vaccine approved by the European Medicines Agency;

For this second option, and to avoid waiting queues, we strongly advise Delegates to register and to pick up the General Conference COVID-Pass in advance. All areas at UNESCO Headquarters are accessible for people with reduced mobility. Do not hesitate to contact reception staff if necessary.
BEFORE THE OPENING OF THE GENERAL CONFERENCE

REGISTRATION OF DELEGATES

You have been designated by your Government to attend the 41st session of the General Conference. For security reasons, it is imperative to register on the indico.UN platform, with your own email address. Read the INDICO User Guide to first create your account and then register for the 41st session.

By creating your personal account, you will be able to receive notification emails on the status of your registration, as well as a QR code based on the information provided during the creation of your account. The presentation of the QR Code will allow you to access UNESCO Headquarters, and collect your name badge, if you do not have a UNESCO badge.

If you do not receive any notification email, please check the spam folder in your inbox.

If your online registration has not been completed before the opening of the General Conference, you will be able to do so onsite, at UNESCO Headquarters, at the Registration Office (Salle des Actes).

However, we recommend that you complete your registration online, to avoid waiting in front of the office in question and delays in producing your badge.

At the entrance of UNESCO Headquarters, please present the INDICO QR code which will have been emailed to you, along with your ID.

COLLECTING YOUR BADGE

Registered Delegates who do not hold a UNESCO badge will be given a name badge which will allow them access to the grounds of UNESCO Headquarters during the General Conference.

You can collect your badge from the weekend of November 6 (Saturday-Sunday, 9 a.m.-5.30 p.m.) at the Delegates Reception (“Monaco” counter, in the Foyer of the conference building).
Since the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic, UNESCO has put in place health measures to reduce the risks of the virus spreading from and within the Organization.

The premises are sanitized regularly as is the technical equipment (headsets and microphone windshields in particular). Specific instructions are available in the buildings to remind users of the best practices to follow.

Medical service:
If you have been in contact with someone who is a potential risk case or developing symptoms, or if you have any doubts about your state of health, contact UNESCO’s Medical Service immediately, before going there: + 33 1 45 68 08 67
service.medical@unesco.org
In addition, we thank you for scrupulously observing the following health instructions:

Barrier gestures:
- Wear a mask as soon as you enter the UNESCO grounds and change it regularly: The mask must be worn at all times and in all circumstances;
- Wash your hands regularly and use the hydroalcoholic gel made available in UNESCO spaces before entering rooms;
- Only use the headset and microphone in the seat assigned to you;

Physical distancing:
- Maintain a physical distance of at least 1.5 metres from people; avoid groups;
- In conference rooms, sit only in your assigned seat; do not change seats;
- Avoid using lifts, most of them can only accommodate one to six people at a time;
- Follow the instructions and arrangements set up in the restaurant areas;

Public movement:
- Respect the signs relating to the prevention of COVID-19 placed in the various spaces of UNESCO: For example, in meeting rooms, doors are designated for the entry and exit of participants, and the direction of movement of people in the room is indicated.
UNESCO is strongly committed to environmental protection and climate action. The key objective of UNESCO’s Environmental Management System (EMS) is to minimize the environmental impact of operations and facilities and continuously improve environmental performance.

What UNESCO does:
Some achievements of the past few years include:
• Environmental Sustainability and Management Policy;
• Internal carbon tax on air travel; UNESCO has been ‘climate neutral’ since 2019;
• Integration of sustainability criteria in procurement and event management;
• Headquarters running on 100% renewable electricity;
• Improved waste management with central recycling stations;
• Vegetable and biodiversity garden, in partnership with the French National Commission for UNESCO and Noocity;
• Progressive replacement of fleet with electric/hybrid vehicles;
• Dedicated emission, waste and water reduction efforts in Field Offices;
• Increased staff awareness through targeted communication and training measures, including a practical Staff Guide and incentives to cycle to work.

Specific measures for the 41st session of the General Conference and how to contribute:
• Paper: Printing is limited, on demand only, and on 100% recycled, FSC-certified paper. Electronic versions of all documents are available on UNESDOC and can be accessed via portable devices. Emissions from printing are offset via a hydropower project near Virunga National Park, a World Heritage Site in DR Congo;
• Rooms: Heating is limited to 20°C and lights are switched off when rooms are empty;
• Waste: Central sorting stations for paper, plastic and other waste are available on the ground floor, and in the basement. Please follow the signage to help to correctly recycle. Paper bins are also available in meeting rooms;
• Catering: The catering service has a zero-plastic policy and uses local, in-season products.
Vegetarian options will be made available;

- No single-use plastic: Bring your own bottle and fill it at the water dispensers available in front of Room II;
- Badges are printed on recycled paper. The badge holders are made from recycled PVC and should be returned at the end of the Conference for reuse.

Given that the largest environmental impact of the General Conference is caused by the (air) travel and accommodation of Delegates though, we invite you to consider the following:

- Accommodation: Choose eco-friendly hotels (such as listed by Green Key) for your stay at walking distance from UNESCO;
- Travel: For travel within Europe, take the train. If you have to fly, give preference to direct flights, choose economy class, pack light to reduce the plane’s weight and consider offsetting your emissions, for example via Atmosfair;
- Transport: Walk, use public transport or the VELIB bike sharing system. If you need to take a car, ask the driver not to leave the motor running.

You can further contribute by reducing your energy consumption (e.g., by switching off your electronic devices when not in use), limiting food and other waste, watching your meat consumption, and bringing your own water bottle and mug.

Did you know?

In 2019, 7.56 million pages of documents were printed for the 40th session of the General Conference, which was a decrease of 19.7% compared to the 39th session. We count on your support to reduce this number further this year!

Reducing heating by just one degree - for example 20°C instead of 21°C - can save about 7% in energy consumption. (ADEME 2020).
