

Joel Ongoto serves as Ag. Deputy Secretary General (DSG) - Research and Resource Mobilization at the Kenya National Commission (KNATCOM).

He is the substantive and current Director for Social and Human Sciences at the Kenya KNATCOM.

As Ag. DSG he coordinates research issues, publication of the KNATCOM Journal, partnerships, consultancy, the KNATCOM resource centre and resource mobilization.

As the substantive SHS Programme Director, he coordinates and promotes matters that relate to social inclusion, intercultural dialogue, youth, social transformation, ethics, physical education, sports, antidoping programmes, UNESCO clubs and social development in Kenya. Which is done through maximizing the contributions of social and human sciences in sustainable development of Kenya by working with relevant stakeholders to address many SHS related contemporary challenges. Previously, he has served as an Assistant Director of Education at the Ministry of Education headquarters. He has also served previously as an Education Officer in the Rift Valley region of Kenya as well as a high school teacher.

He holds a PhD in Educational Management from Kenyatta University, a Master's degree in Educational Administration from the University of Nairobi and a Bachelor of Education (Arts) Degree from Moi University. He has attended many professional courses globally related to his area of work and study.

He has been instrumental in Kenya's effective participation in five previous UNESCO General Conferences and Kenya's membership in the UNESCO Executive Board.